SOME OHIO POLITICS.

The democrats of Ohio are still keeping their record good. For tell political lievity they equal the men who inaugurated and carried out the Mississippi plan. They have gerrymandered the Ohio congressional districts in such a manner as to completely change the political complexion of the delegation in congress.

A dispatch from Columbus says that there was no attempt on the part of the democrats who framed the gerrymandering bill to excuse fairness toward the republican minority of the legislature, or to make a just apportionment on the vote as cast in Ohio. "The main object seemed to be to make as many democratic districts as possible, without any regard to their symmetry, or a fair deal towards the republicans, who have always carried the state when the campaign was made on national issues." It was given out that the apportionment was made on the vote given for Governor Campbell last November, when Foraker was defeated by nearly 10,000 majority. The balance of the republican state ticket was elected by a handsome majority, but Lieutenant-Governor Lampson was afterwards ousted from office by a partisan senate without any show of justice."

To show how utterly the democrats of the Ohio legislature abandoned themselves to outrageous trickery and rank injustice, it is only necessary to call attention to some facts in regard to the Ohio vote. President Harrison carried the state in 1888 by over 21,000, or an average of 1,000 to each congressional district, while in the preceding fall Governor Foraker had 18,000 plurality in round numbers and Secretary of State Ryan had over 20,000. A fair apportionment of the average vote of the last six years would give the republicans not less than fourteen of the twenty-one districts, and in the presidential election of 1888 General Harrison carried sixteen of the districts as made up under the Price bill. But the gerrymander was prepared was not based on any vote cast in Ohio in recent years, and the districts were only constructed with the single idea of making as many of them democratic as possible. The plurality of Governor Campbell based on the districts as constituted under the new law would have given the republicans not less than nine districts, whereas under the provisions of the Price bill they are allowed but six."

It does not seem possible that the people of Ohio will endorse such political unfairness as this. Ohio is capable of doing some strongly unjust things, politically, and at times its legislatures and courts have become demoralized, but this scandalous piece of gerrymandering will not go unrebuked.

THE CLOLISHNESS OF BLAIR.

When Senator Blair entered upon the work of trying to make the senate believe that his educational bill was a thing needed in the south, he filed, it is said, 198 solid columns of the Congressional Record. He was five days in delivering himself of that speech, and when he finished, his bill was in a worse condition than before.

The Blair bill seeks to appropriate some $77,000,000 for educational purposes in the south, the money to be apportioned according to the percentage of illiteracy. The bill has been justly called a measure to promote mendacity in the south. To show whether there is a necessity for such an extravagant measure, the Gazette will give some facts. Take Mississippi, for instance, in which illiteracy is as low as any state in the south, and these are the facts: "The total amount for school purposes for 1888-89 amounted to $1,292,273, and the total disbursements to $1,117,110, the amount paid to teachers being $930,698, of which $589,400 was to white and $341,263 to colored teachers, or 22 per cent. more than was paid in 1885. During the same period 478 new school-houses were erected, making the total number 5,777, of which 3,348 are for white and 2,429 for colored children. The total of educable pupils is 191,792 white and 272,628 colored, and the average daily attendance was 192,426. This is a promising showing in the most unpromising of the whole tier of cotton states."

In regard to Kentucky the educational condition of the state is thus given by Senator Beck:

During the present year the per capita is $2.15, the sum of $1,455,132.90 is appropriated as follows:

To 665,451 white children the sum of $1,215,719.65; to 111,350 colored children the sum of $239,413.25.

During the fiscal year of 1887 of the sum of $1,000,000 expended on schools for colored children only $12,545.65 was contributed by colored tax payers. A proportionate contribution has been paid in subsequent years, thus illustrating in a remarkable manner the interest taken by the white population in improving the condition of the colored race by so heavily taxing themselves. It will be seen that more than half the revenue of the state is thus devoted to purposes of public education, exceeding the percentage allowed in almost every other state of the Union for such purpose.

Senator Spencer made a speech in the state on the Blair bill which was one of the strongest of all arguments presented against that measure. "He was opposed to voting money to aid in the support of common school in the northern states according to their percentage of illiteracy, just because one or more of the southern states were in need of aid."

He did not wish to have opened a "match game" which would give a premium to the state that could show the greatest percentage of illiteracy."

The bill will not become a law for two reasons: first, that there is no necessity for it; and second, that it is too extravagant.

The Racine people will have a hot municipal election. The republican candidate for mayor, Mr. Mitchell, favors the Sunday closing of saloon, and is endorsed by the prohibitionists; the democratic candidate, Mr. Secor, will represent his party in believing the saloons should keep open on Sunday, and on this question the campaign will be conducted. Racine may be lost to all sense of decency, and if it is, it will vote for open saloon on Sunday; but it seems that the moral sense of that city is too exalted to endorse Sunday saloon.

St. John has reached home at last, the news of this long expected event coming from the St. Paul Pioneer Press. The coming tenting season John P. St. John, it is understood, will be found performing in the main ring of the eccentric circus. He has been promised from the side show business: Secure your tickets while the band plays at the door.

There is a probability that Robert Lincoln will resign his position as minister to England and return home. The terrible domestic calamity which he has experienced sickened him of the mission.

The republican senators from Montana—Powers and Saunders—will be seated, the senate committee on elections having decided to report favorable on their cases.

The English syndicate has bought up a good many enterprises in this country, and now comes the free trade wing of the democratic party.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW ILL.

His Friends Feel Uneasy in Regard to His Condition.

New York, March 10.—Chauncey M. Depew is ill. Considerable uneasiness is felt by his friends who have just learned of his condition. Friday night Mr. Depew returned to New York from Buffalo, where he contracted a heavy cold. A night's rest he thought would bring him around all right, but Saturday he was worse instead of better. The cold had been a firm grip, and Dr. Bassett, Mr. Depew's physician, prescribed for him that great care had to be taken in order to ward off a serious illness. The patient was ordered to remain in bed, and hopes to get out soon.

TEXAS OFFICIALS OUSTED.

A Self-Styled Court Declares Vacancies and Proceeds to Fill Them.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, March 10.—There is a curious and anomalous condition of public affairs in Hidalgo county. A factional war is constantly in progress in that border ballwick, and it has happened often within the last few years that the county has practically been without executive, judicial, and clerical officers.

The Governor is frequently appealed to to settle the bitter factional dissensions, but his decisions are nearly all disregarded and the county is left with no official head. A self-constituted commission court convened at Eunenburg and declared vacancies in the offices of county clerk, sheriff, and tax collector. A frontiersman was at once appointed sheriff and R. A. Marsh county clerk. No appointment was made to fill the other vacancies. Serious trouble—probably bloodshed—is expected as a result of this action.

The Buccaneers of Old

Planned the skull and cross bones, their ensign, defiantly at the masthead. Your modern prelate, not on the high seas, but upon the high reputation of standard remedies, skulks under various disguises. His hole and corner traffics have never to any degree affected Hostetter's Stomach Bitter, although that standard invigorant and corrective has long been the abiding charm at which his patients have been directed. Other physicians, composed of less educated scoundrels, with an inferior, or extract possibly, of some tonic bark, are still sometimes recommended as identical with, or similar to, or possessing virtues kindred to those of America's chosen family medicine. These perish speedily, while the great subduer, and preventive of disease, pursues its successful career, overcoming malaria, dyspepsia, nervousness, kidney troubles, constipation and rheumatic ailments, not only on this, but on many continents.

BIG BLAZE IN DETROIT.

Costly Fire in a Small Village of South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 10.—The town of Jonesville, a small place in the upper part of the State, was nearly destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock and high wind spread it rapidly. The losses are: J. S. Monk, druggist; J. S. McWhirter, general merchandise; A. D. Davley's wood-pile. Fortunately Davley reported that none of the sticks had been taken with the charge, were large enough to have done great damage had they exploded.

The search for the bodies of the crew had just begun when the body charred beyond all recognition, but evidently those of the 13-year old girl and one of the boys, were found along side of the foundation, outside of where the wall had been. They had probably fallen out of the upper windows and the flames and smoke from below hid them from the lookers-on, and being helpless in the ground they had roared to death outside the building.

Later on the trunk of Mrs. Colerette was found. The arms and legs were entirely burned off. About 2 p. m. the searchers found a tiny leg, or the bones of one, with the flesh burned off. That was all that remained of eight persons. Mrs. Colerette was 43 years old. The children buried were four girls and three boys.

A BIG BLAZE IN DETROIT

A Little South Carolina Town Nearly Wiped Out by an Incendiary Fire.

HORRIBLE WORK OF FIRE IN A CANADIAN FARM HOUSE.

The Mother and Seven Children Perish in the Cruel Flames—Various Other Disasters.

MONTREAL, Que., March 10.—Mrs. Onésime Colerette, the wife of a wealthy Canadian farmer, and her seven children were burned to death yesterday in their home near Côte St. Michael, five miles from Montreal. At nearly an hour the large stone house, after the burning took fire, and before assistance could be given it was burned to the ground. Colerette had left the house to attend to his work about the farm, and on returning found the place in flames. He tried to rescue his family, but was overcome by his horror and fainted. He was terribly burned and may die of his injuries. The first supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a kerosene oil lamp.

He was soon after Colerette saw the flames rush toward the house. At the door he was met by a burst of flames which set fire to his scarf, and his hands, neck, and whiskers were badly scorched before he could tear it off. Then he ran to the rear. Only smoke was coming out of this door, and into it Colerette dashed. He got as far as the door of the sleeping room, but he sank to the ground and died.

The neighbors had now arrived and while some of them dragged Colerette out of the ruins, others gathered up his clothes others ran for remedies. He was conveyed to a neighbor's house and medical aid was summoned, but though conscious, he is not expected to live.

Perhaps a dozen people had arrived on the scene within five minutes after the explosion took place, but even then it was impossible to approach within two or five feet of the building. The ground was covered with debris, and the men who dragged Colerette out of further danger were badly singed. There was no fire apparatus in the village and the fire had to be allowed to burn itself out, the roof falling in twenty minutes after the fire began, and the wooden walls melting away ten minutes later.

The search for the bodies of the crew had just begun when the body charred beyond all recognition, but evidently those of the 13-year old girl and one of the boys, were found along side of the foundation, outside of where the wall had been. They had probably fallen out of the upper windows and the flames and smoke from below hid them from the lookers-on, and being helpless in the ground they had roared to death outside the building.

CITY OF JANESEVILLE. CITY CLERK'S OFFICE.

Whereas a number of the qualified electors of the city of Janesville, Hon. George W. Concen, a petition in writing, by them signed, praying that the undersigned Clerk of said city of Janesville, be allowed to submit to the House of Representatives of the United States, and any correspondence in regard to the proposed transfer of the Apache and Chiricahua Indians from Mount Vernon barracks at Alabama to Fort Still, I. T. The morning hour was consumed in a discussion of the bill providing for the compulsory attendance of witnesses before the registers and receivers of land offices, which was passed.

The cause then in committee of the whole, resumed, and the consideration of public building measures.

The work of the House this week will probably be devoted principally to adding new stars to the national flag. The District of Columbia committee will occupy one day in the disposition of measures relating to local affairs, and after that the Oklahoma bill will be taken up and passed upon, finally, as far as the House is concerned. Then, according to the bill, it will go to the consideration of the House the bill to admit Wyoming as a State of the Union, and this will be followed by the Idaho bill, if any time remains.

The committee on elections desires to call up the contested election case of Mudd vs. Compton, from Maryland, but will only do so, according to present arrangement, if it can be done without interfering with the Statehood bills already introduced.

The uncertainty surrounding the disposition of the questions raised by the recent consideration of executive session matters makes it impossible to forecast with any degree of accuracy the work of the Senate this week. Senator Dolph's committee will resume the interrogation under oath of members of the Senate respecting their connection with "leaks" in the past, and other discoveries may precipitate another discussion similar to that of last week.

So much of the time of the Senate was taken up with the discussion that the Blair educational aid bill was not disposed of, and it still heads the calendar as unfinished business. A very general feeling exists in favor of closing this debate this week and to take a vote on the bill if possible.

Mr. Everts will close the debate in summing up the measure. The urgent deficiency appropriation bill will be reported from the committee on appropriations this week. Senator Stanford will offer a resolution instructing the finance committee to investigate and report upon the expediency and desirability of the government loaning money upon real estate mortgages at a nominal rate of interest, 1 or 2 per cent per annum, retaining the right to call in a certain proportion of the loans when occasion demands.

In the morning hours the Oklahoma town site bill may be considered, and further progress made in the execution of the order to dispose of public building and bridge bills on the calendar.

HELP FOR DAKOTA SUFFERERS.

Miss Clara Barton Appeals to the Public for Cash Subscriptions.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Miss Clara Barton, president of the American National Association of the Red Cross, has been investigating the statements concerning the suffering and destitution existing among the pioneer settlers of North and South Dakota with a view of aiding those in need of help.

She has ascertained that there is urgent necessity for immediate action and now appeals to the public for contributions large enough to meet every emergency. She has information that there are at least 5,000 people dependent and many more who, though they have provisions for themselves, need food for their stock. H. T. Helgesen, State commissioner of agriculture, Grand Forks, N. D., will distribute all funds sent to his address.

LESSON OF A TRAGEDY.

Completion of the New Fire-Alarm System at the White House.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The new fire-alarm system at the White House, which was suggested by the recent terrible tragedy at the residence of Secretary Tracy, has been completed and the tests indicate that it is entirely satisfactory. Stand-pipes have been erected in the basement, one at the east and one at the west end, and each of them is provided with 100 feet of hose.

Cables have been made with an auxiliary fire-alarm system and a signal box numbered 157. One mile of wire was required to make the connections throughout the house and there are six auxiliary boxes at various points and of easy access.
